Superhero Training Camp

What kind of Superhero will you be? This character development class helps students explore their imagination in developing their own Superhero persona. Students will design their own mask and cape and solve a mystery. They also use their superpowers to overcome obstacles and create their own comic book page.

Theater is a Team Sport

Using cooperative activities and games, this curriculum teaches students the three C's:

- communication
- collaboration
- cooperation

Students work on mutual respect, listening skills, active focus, and learn the advantages of teamwork.

Theater games and activities help students learn self-confidence, body movement, self-expression, creative problem solving and collaboration.

Intro to Theater and Acting
